Bethlehem Christmas in India 2023

Silent Night amidst Shouts of Joy

Merry Christmas 2023, in General, serves as a classic reminder of Christ's sacrifice for mankind. Sacrifice, in His incarnation, divine becoming human! Jesus is the logo of all things pure, humble, divine and sin-free, sent to earth by God to save humans from all evils and pretensions! God dwells in pure hearts. Christmas, at the same time silently and loudly proclaims the disclosing God, dwelling among Humans. The reason is "Love binds God to man and man to man". He pitches his tent among men (Jn 1:14). He infused divine nature into sinners with a lesson on how to be a nobleman. This insight is Christmas, which is not a ritual but reality and revelation. The glad tidings of his birth were brought first to simple shepherds through angels (Lk 1: 8-12). Christmas banishes fear from man. Real Christmas is personal, believing, obeying and sharing the eyewitness of seeing God. Christmas is about giving, not grabbing. Simple shepherds bowed before the baby in the manger, in swaddling clothes, and worshipped their Chief Shepherd. On that silent night their shouts of joy could not awaken those around from their slumber. That was in Bethlehem 2000 years ago, celebrated in India in 2023 in order to wake up 'into the haven freedom' as Tagore prayed!

In India, All Religions Join in 'The Bada Din'

Palestine, the birth country of Jesus greets India, which is the birthplace of Jainism, Buddhism, Hinduism, and Sikhism, and marks the birth of Jesus with a national holiday. Indians call Christmas bada din (the Big Day). Christmas is a national holiday in India, just like for any other festivals like Diwali, Id, etc. It is celebrated by Christians and non-Christians alike. Christmas celebrations in India vary from region to region, but there are some common traditions that are observed throughout the country. One of the most popular Christmas traditions in India is the Midnight Mass. This is a special service that is held on Christmas Eve at midnight. Christians attend Midnight Mass to celebrate the birth of Jesus Christ. After the service, many families go home for a Christmas feast.

Christmas among other Faiths

Compared to other religious festivals, Christmas is quite a small festival in India, due to the number of people who are Christians (about 2.3%) compared to people who belong to other religions. The population of India is over 1.4 Billion, so there are over 30 million Christians in India. So that is quite a lot of people for whom December 25th is very important. Christmas is an annual celebration around the world commemorating the birth of Jesus Christ, observed on December 25 as a religious and cultural event. The festival is associated with carols, baking cakes and cookies, having get-togethers, Christmas decorations like stars and charms, a general feeling of festive cheer, and not to forget, the legend of Santa Claus. Culturally, Christmas is about getting together with the people of other faiths and ideologies, one is fond of, people one loves or likes. It's great fun, it's the joy of giving. It's very Indian to just celebrate the aspect of being around people who matter.

Religious and Cultural

It is believed that Mary gave birth to Jesus Christ, the son of God on December 25 in Bethlehem. Jesus of Nazareth was a spiritual leader whose teachings formed the foundation of Christianity. Although the Bible does not mention a specific date for his birth, Emperor Constantine, the first Christian Roman emperor — designated December 25 as Christmas, which became a day to commemorate Christ's birth. On the eve of one of the most important holidays in the world, people attend midnight Masses at churches, and families decorate their homes with Christmas ornaments, decorations and the tree. Kids are told stories of Santa Claus, who is an imaginary old man in red with a white attire with a long white beard, bearing a bag full of toys with his reindeers at drag for children who have been 'good' throughout the year. Children believe he arrives at midnight and leaves gifts under the decorated tree.

Christmas Traditions observed in India

There is a large community of Christians living in India, and they do celebrate Christmas, like erecting a Christmas tree in their homes, decorating their homes with bow wreaths, etc. It's such a diverse country that even the celebrations vary from region to region. But the commonalities remain. Christian friends would distribute plum cakes in schools, colleges and streets. We can find huge Christmas trees erected in various malls across major metropolitan cities in India. The way Christmas is celebrated is simply amazing with carols, decorations and merry environment. Instead of having traditional Christmas Trees, a banana or mango tree is decorated or whatever tree people can find to decorate! Sometimes people use mango leaves to decorate their homes. In Southern India, Christians often put small oil burning clay lamps on the flat roofs of their homes to show their neighbours that Jesus is the light of the world. Christians in Mumbai use many Christmas traditions from Goa including the star lanterns and manger scenes. People like to make sure they have the best the nativity scene in Cribs!

In north-west India, the tribal Christians of the Bhil folk, go out night after night for a week at Christmas to sing their own carols the whole night through. They go to surrounding villages singing to people and telling the Christmas story. Father Christmas or Santa Claus delivers presents to children from a horse and cart. He's known as 'Christmas Baba' in Hindi, 'Baba Christmas' in Urdu (both of those mean Father Christmas); 'Christmas Thaathaa' in Tamil and 'Christmas Thatha' in Telugu, both of those mean Christmas grandfather; and 'Natal Bua' (Christmas Elder Man) in Marathi. In Kerala state, he's known as 'Christmas Papa.'

In Many different languages in India, I greet YOU:

In Hindi Happy/Merry Christmas is 'Śubh krisamas' (शुभ क्रिसमस); Urdu it's 'krismas mubarak' (کریسمس مبارک); in Sanskrit it's 'Krismasasya shubhkaamnaa'; in Gujarati it's 'Anandi Natal' or 'Khushi Natal' (અનંદી નાટલ); in Bengali 'shubho bôrocin' (শুভ বড়দিন); in Tamil it's 'kristumas vālttukkal' (கிறிஸ்துமஸ் வாழ்த்துக்கள்); in Konkani it's 'Khushal Borit Natala'; in Kannada it's 'kris mas habbada shubhaashayagalu' (ಕ್ರಿಸ್ ಮಸ್ ಹಬ್ಬದ ಶುಭಾಶಯಗಳು); in Mizo it's 'Krismas Chibai'; in Marathi it's 'Śubh Nātāl' (शुभ नाताळ); in Punjabi it's 'karisama te nawām sāla khuṣayāpwālā hewe' (ਕਰਿਸਮ ਤੇ ਨਵੀਂ ਸਾਲ ਖੁਸ਼ੀਆਵਾਲਾ ਹੋਵੇ); in Malayalam it's 'Christmas inte mangalaashamsakal'; in Shindi it's 'Christmas jun wadhayun' and in Telugu it's 'Christmas Subhakankshalu'

II. Holy Father's General Intention: For Persons with Disabilities

We Pray that people living with disabilities may be at the centre of attention in society and that intuitions may offer inclusive programmes which value their active participation.

III. Message of Pope Francis: "Laudate Deum": the Pope's cry for a response to the climate crisis

On 4 October, the Feast of St. Francis of Assisi, Pope Francis published an apostolic exhortation, Laudate Deum (Praise God). This apostolic exhortation is sequel to Laudato Si' which was published in the year 2015. Laudate Deum's means Praising God. Laudate Deum's continuity with its predecessor is indicated by its name. Usually with Papal documents, the opening line explains the title. But with Laudate Deum there is a coda: the final sentence brings new perspective to the meaning of the name given to the text. This is a summary of that document.

The Global Climate Crisis

Pope Francis begins with the facts. The climate's current situation is volatile and headed toward catastrophe, and Laudate Deum clearly identifies this reality. "Our responses have not been adequate, while the world in which we live is collapsing and may be nearing the breaking point," he writes. Pointing to overwhelming scientific evidence that climate change is the result of human activity, Francis describes how the last 200 years of pollution and extraction have led the world to this crisis point. The disastrous situation is already apparent in deadly natural disasters, collapsing ecosystems, and rising temperatures worldwide. Still, many continue to deny the climate crisis or look the other way in favor of profit and productivity. In the face of that neglect, Pope Francis calls on all to remember the connectedness of everything and that salvation is communal.

Critique of the Technocratic Paradigm

Hard truths in hand, Pope Francis returns to an obstacle he first described in Laudato Si', the technocratic paradigm. Technocracy, as the letter explains, is the belief that goodness and truth come directly from advances in technology and the growth of economic power. In the context of the climate crisis, it provides the illusion that it is possible to invent solutions without examining the underlying spiritual and economic problems that brought the world to this point. Expecting that simply moving from gas cars to electric cars or from beef cattle to lab-grown meat will be enough to resolve the crisis is a misguided assumption. Rather, Pope Francis recalls that the human person is also a part of creation, and cannot be separated from it, no matter how powerful scientific developments become. Those advancements tell us little about how they are actually to be used, and most often, the question is not "Should it be done?" but only "Is it possible?"

Weakness of International Politics

Governments do little to provide real guidance either, let alone constructive legislation. Pope Francis laments the lack of cooperation between countries to address the climate crisis, even though successful efforts on past international concerns offer a helpful model. The sort of collaboration that Laudate Deum envisions instead begins not in the centers of power but in the grassroots. “It is no longer helpful for us to support institutions in order to preserve the rights of the more powerful without caring for those of all,” the letter states explicitly. For too long, the margins have been ignored, the poor and exploited made miserable by the same filthy, rotten system destroying the Earth. Respecting the dignity of each person and the necessity of our common home requires the creation of new global mechanisms of discussion and decision-making.

Climate Conferences: Progress and Failures

The current global mechanisms for addressing the climate crisis are fundamentally toothless. Pope Francis briefly details the history of the COP meetings, which have been held yearly since 1995. Over the past thirty years, these international conferences have been a source of hope but have yet to result in action or progress. Scientific understanding of the climate crisis continues to grow, and the international accords seemingly reflect this, though in reality, they fall short of implementation. Too often, wealthy and powerful countries put their own interest ahead of the global common good and are not held accountable.

What to Expect from COP28 in Dubai?

The trend of making international promises only for nations to back on them, simply put, must come to an end. The crisis is now too dire to ignore the need for substantial change. Though new technology or scientific advances are important for the short term, the change Laudate Deum calls for is much more profound. Our problems are deeper than environmental concerns—they are social and political, concerning everyone. You don’t need to be a tree-hugger or a wildlife biologist to care about the future of the planet and our children. COP28 has the opportunity to be the conference that finally recognizes the real depth of the crisis that humanity is facing. It can respond and make real, meaningful strides toward climate justice.

Spiritual Motivations

In this concluding section, Pope Francis offers the image of a community on pilgrimage: United by God to each other and all of creation; we walk a journey of conversion that turns from the sinful degradation of the earth and towards faithfulness to God, the creator of all things. We cannot take God’s place. A Christian response to the climate crisis is not about recycling or buying an electric car. Repackaged consumerism will not be enough, though Laudate Deum clarifies that wealthy countries like the United States are obligated to renounce extractivism and overconsumption.

“‘Praise God’ is the title of this letter. For when human beings claim to take God’s place, they become their own worst enemies.” Pope Francis is inviting the whole church to a renewed vision of community and solidarity, where Catholics are willing to stand alongside their poor and exploited brothers and sisters as prophets of another better world. We are being called to collaborate with Christ’s liberating grace active in the world, alive in our hearts, our communities, and our Earth.

Jubilee 2025 Prayer (after Communion or the end of the Mass)

Father in heaven,
may the faith you have given us
in your son, Jesus Christ, our brother, and the flame of charity enkindled
in our hearts by the Holy Spirit, reawaken in us the blessed hope for the coming of your Kingdom.

May your grace transform us into tireless cultivators of the seeds of the Gospel.
May those seeds transform from within both humanity and the whole cosmos in the sure expectation of a new heaven and a new earth,
when, with the powers of Evil vanquished,
your glory will shine eternally.

May the grace of the Jubilee reawaken in us, Pilgrims of Hope,
a yearning for the treasures of heaven.
May that same grace spread the joy and peace of our Redeemer throughout the earth.

To you our God, eternally blessed,
be glory and praise for ever.

Amen

Mass Introduction and Homily Notes

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ Jesus,

Our Holy Mother Church has completed the First Session of the XVI General Assembly of the Synod on synodality, reflecting on 'communion, mission, participation.' The journey began in October 2021 with the Diocesan Phase, when all the faithful of the Local Churches were involved in the discussion; in the Continental Phase we discerned on different voices that emerged across the Episcopal Conferences; and in the Universal Phase deliberations have been made on communion, mission, and participation, and the synthesis report, 'A Synodal Church in Mission' is its fruit.

Integrating the synodal journey, and responding to the invitation of the Holy Father, the Church in India, inaugurates today the preparations for the Ordinary Jubilee 2025.

'Pilgrims of Hope' is the motto of the celebrations of Ordinary Jubilee 2025. Our Holy Father Pope Francis underscores the importance of hope in Christian life amidst uncertainties and hardships created by the pandemic and wars.

Learn, Pray, and Walk – these are the three words that we need to remember today. In the preparatory year (2023-2024), that we inaugurate today, we will learn the Four Constitutions of the Second Vatican Council (on Bible, Worship, Church, and World) and will pray with the Church for the entire humanity. And in 2025 we will walk the Jubilee Doors in Rome making a pilgrimage to the Four Basilicas.

The logo for the Jubilee 2025 – that we unveil shortly – shows four figures in four colours representing the entire humanity hailing from the four corners of the earth. They embrace each other in solidarity and fraternity. The figure at the front holds fast to the cross, which gives us hope. The rough waves under the figures represent the present context of the world which is marked by turmoil and troubles. The lower part of the cross has been elongated and turned into the shape of an anchor which is a symbol of hope. The image illustrates the pilgrim's journey not as an individual effort, but as a collective enterprise. At the bottom of the logo lies the motto of the Jubilee Year 2025: 'Peregrinantes in Spem' ('Pilgrims of Hope').

The Jubilee 2025 is meant to celebrate God, the Church, and each of us. The post-pandemic war-hitting world today needs 'hope.' As pilgrims of hope let us light candle of hope in our families, workplaces, parishes, Diocese, and society.

May Christ the King instil in us the ray of hope, and inspire us to walk his path of service.

We shall unveil the Jubilee 2025 logo now.

2. Homily Notes

[The following text explains the Jubilee 2025, its meaning, purpose, preparation, and celebration. The text serves as a tool for homily preparation. At the end of the Prayers of the Faithful, the Celebrant, during the silent pause, shall invite the congregation to pray for the effectiveness of the preparations for the Jubilee 2025]

a. Jubilee in the Bible. Etymologically, the word 'jubilee' comes from the Hebrew word 'yobel' (= ram's horn) which was used as a trumpet to announce the beginning of the 50th year, i.e., the completion of 49 years (7 times 7 years). According to Lev 25:8-13 the celebration of the jubilee year entails release of slaves, forgiveness of debts, repatriation of property. In other words, jubilee is understood as four R's: Rest (the land is given rest); Review (an inventory of life, livestock, personnel, and land is taken); Restore (setting the societal clock back to zero); and Reconcile (aligning our relationships right with God and one another). The 'holy year' which the Prophet Isaiah (cf. Isa 61; See Also Lk 4) speaks of also alludes to jubilee. Here, the holy year is understood as the year of recalling and announcing God's favour and mercy. From the biblical point of view, celebration of a jubilee makes us retrospect the past (liberation), live in the present (consolation), and set our vision on the future (moving forward). Besides, jubilee is the celebration of time, and since it is the celebration of time it is a gift from God. That is why we pray at the Easter Vigil: 'all times belong to him and all ages.'

b. Jubilees in History. The first ordinary jubilee year ('holy year') was announced in 1300 by Pope Boniface VIII. Initially, ordinary jubilee was celebrated once in 100 years; Pope Clement VI in 1343 began to celebrate it every 50 years; in 1470 Pope Paul II made it every 25 years. There have also been 'extraordinary' holy years: in 1933 Pope Pius XI celebrated 1900th anniversary of the Redemption (based on this, some charismatic groups propagate 2033 as the jubilee of the Great Mission Command, but the Church has not officially endorsed it); in 2015 Pope Francis proclaimed the Extraordinary Jubilee Year of Mercy. The previous ordinary jubilee was the Great Jubilee 2000, for which we had three years of preparation: 1997 (God the Son), 1998 (God the Holy Spirit), and 1999 (God the Father). Jubilee events entail entering the holy door, undertaking pilgrimages, and obtaining indulgences.

c. Characteristics of the Jubilee. The Dicastery for Evangelization, Section for Fundamental Questions regarding Evangelization in the World, which coordinates the celebrations, spells out seven characteristics of the Jubilee: (i) Pilgrimage (journey, crossing of boundaries, going across the fields, with other journeying companions); (ii) Holy Door (powerful sign, four Roman Basilicas, Jesus is the Door, journey to the interior of a church); (iii) Reconciliation (placing God at the centre of our lives, restoration of social justice, confession); (iv) Prayer (being open to God's presence and his offer of love); (v) Liturgy (public prayer of the Church, summit and font, opening of the door); (vi) Profession of faith (identity of the baptized person, Apostolic Creed, Nicene Creed); and (vii) Indulgences (experience of God's mercy, offering up sufferings).

d. The purpose of the Jubilee is threefold: (i) To celebrate Jesus. In the jubilee year we primarily celebrate Jesus, the incarnate Son of the Father through the power of the Holy Spirit. We commemorate his birth, life, teaching, ministry, passion, death, and resurrection. We take conscious and fruitful efforts 'to know him more clearly, to love him more dearly, and to follow him more nearly.' (ii) To celebrate the Church, which is our Mother and Teacher. We renew our commitment to our Holy Catholic Church by owing our communion and contribution. And (iii) To celebrate us. We celebrate each one of us, with unique gifts and charisms, vocations and ministries, lifestyles, and values. The Jubilee 2025 invites us to 'remember' God, to 'review' our relation to God and God's Church, and to 'restore' our relationships with God and God's people. Celebration of Jesus, Church, and us happens in the context of our synodal journey in communion, mission, and participation.

e. The year of learning and praying (2023-2024): The Holy Father wishes that the four Constitutions of the Second Vatican Council be studied to obtain direction and guidance for God's people. We are asked to read the four Constitutions of the Second Vatican Council (Dei Verbum, Sacrosanctum Concilium, Lumen Gentium, and Gaudium et Spes), to understand the general themes of the Council, and to explore Jesus, the Church, and our lives in the world today. The Dicastery of Evangelization has brought forth 35 booklets giving background information to the Second Vatican Council and to the Four Constitutions. In the year of prayer we are called to pray with the Universal Church, in the Local Churches, for the entire humanity. We may reflect on prayer in Christian life, sacraments, sacramentals, pious practices, and popular devotions as well. The Dicastery has published 9 notebooks on prayer.

f. Year of Jubilee (2025): In the Jubilee Year we shall enter the Holy Doors of the four Major Basilicas (Saints Peter and Paul, St. John Lateran, St. Mary Major, and St. Paul outside the walls). We may also enter the doors for hope, lighting a ray of hope in prisons, homes for the elderly and the dying destitute, hospitals, and refugee camps.

The Ordinary Jubilee 2025, an integral part of the synodal journey, invites us to be pilgrims of hope, givers of hope, and lovers of hope.

V. New Liturgical Year: Season of Advent (Dec. 3)

The New Liturgical Year in the Church begins with the season of Advent a time to help us prepare for Christmas, when we celebrate the fulfillment of our longing for the Savior with the birth of Jesus. So, what is Advent: It's the season that lasts about four weeks, beginning four Sundays before Christmas and ends on Christmas Eve. The Church's Christmas season begins on Christmas Eve and lasts for twelve days. So, Advent is a season of anticipation that leads up to Christmas.

Advent Traditions: One of the primary traditions of Advent is the lighting of the Advent wreath. Each candle lit represents an aspect of the spiritual preparation for the coming of the Lord, Jesus Christ. The circle of branches of the wreath symbolize the eternal cycle of the seasons while the evergreens and lighted candles signify the persistence of life in the midst of winter. Advent Candles The Advent wreath contains 4 candles. All of the candles are purple except the third (which is rose). The symbolic meanings of the candles can vary but they are often:

1. Hope - expectation of what is to come and sometimes prophecy
2. Love - sometimes called the Bethlehem Candle
3. Joy - this rose candle is often called Mary's Candle
4. Peace - it can often be called the Angel's Candle

Colors of Advent: The color of Advent is purple. You'll see purple used quite often in banners around the church or in the vestments of the clergy. Purple is used at Advent as it is at Lent to represent the penitential nature of the season. In fact, Advent used to be known as "little Lent." The color is a symbolic reminder for us to be preparing ourselves for the coming of our Lord. The third Sunday during Advent is called Gaudete Sunday. The word Gaudete means "rejoice." On that Sunday your priest may wear rose vestments. This color is meant to remind us that Christmas is drawing near.

VI. Feast of St. Francis Xavier (Dec. 4)

Francis was born in Xavier, in the Kingdom of Navarre on April 7th 1506. He was born into a rich farming family, whose fortunes were severely damaged during the war with Aragon. Francis went to study in Paris, where he met Ignatius of Loyola, who would convince Francis to follow a religious life and become a priest. Francis was reluctant at first, leading Ignatius to ask the now-famous question: "What will it profit a man to gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?" Along with Ignatius, Francis became one of the founders of the Society of Jesus, commonly known as the Jesuits. They made private vows of poverty, chastity, and obedience to the Pope. They also vowed to go to the Holy Land to convert “infidels.”

Francis left Rome for the Indies in March 1540. His future as arguably the greatest Christian missionary since St. Paul began almost by accident. He wasn’t originally chosen to be a missionary, but one of the two originally selected by Ignatius fell ill, so Ignatius asked Francis to go as a replacement. Over the next 12 years, Francis led a series of overseas missions, mainly in the Portuguese Empire of the time - Mozambique, Malacca and notably Goa. He was the first Christian missionary to travel Japan and on to Borneo and the Moluccan Islands. For his evangelist work, he became known as the “Apostle of the Indies”. Francis was waiting to travel to take his missionary work to mainland China when he died from a fever on Shangchuan Island on December 2nd 1552. Francis was made a saint by Gregory XV on March 12th 1622. Saint Francis Xavier’s relics are kept in a silver casket, inside the Born Jesus Basilica in Goa.

VII. St. Ambrose (Dec. 7)

The life of St. Ambrose (b. 337 AD) may be one of the best examples of how God’s plans can be completely different from our own. And St. Ambrose’s response provides a wonderful message for how saying “yes” to God and striving for holiness in our own lives can be an important witness to others. As governor of two Roman provinces headquartered in Milan, Ambrose attended the election of a new bishop to simply help keep the peace between the Nicene Church and the Arians. Well-loved for his fairness and charity, the assembled crowd called for His appointment to the see and he suddenly found himself the new bishop of Milan. Not yet baptized a Christian or versed in Christian theology, he refused and went into hiding. But, with the Emperor Gratian’s approval, Ambrose finally accepted. He was baptized, ordained and consecrated the bishop of Milan within the week. Popular, persuasive and a fierce defender of the truth, Ambrose became one of the most influential figures of the fourth century and of Church history. Known primarily for his defense of Church teaching against the growing Arian heresy in his time, Ambrose repeatedly found himself tangling with emperors, but his humility and generosity fueled his popularity and increased his political power. Ambrose is one of the four original Latin doctors of the Church, along with Augustine, Jerome and Gregory the Great. His extensive writings include treatises on ethics, the priesthood, sacraments, the role of Mary and the liturgy. A late student to Scripture, Ambrose used his background in Greek philosophy to share the lessons of the Old Testament through the lens of its heroes. Ambrose is credited with composing hymns that are the foundation for hymns used to this day. His influence as an orator may be best demonstrated by the impact his influence had on St. Augustine. Tradition teaches that Augustine was unimpressed with Christian theology, but was forever changed by meeting Ambrose. Augustine's mother, St. Monica, credits Ambrose with Augustine's conversion, calling him, "An angel of God who uprooted her son from his former ways and led him to his convictions of Christ." Ambrose is the patron of Milan, beekeepers, beggars and learning. His feast day is Dec. 7, the date he was consecrated bishop. His zealous embrace of God's plan for him can be an inspiration for all who say "yes" to God's unexpected plans for them.

VIII. Immaculate Conception of Mary (Dec. 8)

The most Blessed Virgin Mary was, from the first moment of her conception, by a singular grace and privilege of almighty God and by virtue of the merits of Jesus Christ, Savior of the human race, preserved immune from all stain of original sin." In 1854, Pope Pius IX's solemn declaration, "Ineffabilis Deus," clarified with finality the long-held belief of the Church that Mary was conceived free from original sin. Mary was granted this extraordinary privilege because of Her unique role in history as the Mother of God. That is, she received the gift of salvation in Christ from the very moment of her conception. Even though Mary is unique in all humanity for being born without sin, she is held up by the Church as a model for all humanity in Her holiness and Her purity in her willingness to accept the Plan of God for her. Every person is called to recognize and respond to God's call to their own vocation in order to carry out God's plan for their life and fulfill the mission prepared for them since before the beginning of time. Mary's "Let it be done to me according to Thy Word," in response of the Angel Gabriel's greeting, is the response required of all Christians to God's Plan. The Solemnity of the Immaculate Conception is a time to celebrate the great joy of God's gift to humanity in Mary, and to recognize with greater clarity, the truth that each and every human being has been created by God to fulfill a particular mission that he and only he can fulfill. "The word of the Lord came to me thus: "Before I formed you in the womb I knew you, before you were born I dedicated you, a prophet to the nations I appointed you." (Jeremiah 1:5-6)

IX. St. John of the Cross (Dec. 14)

John is a saint because his life was a heroic effort to live up to his name: "of the Cross." The folly of the cross came to full realization in time. "Whoever wishes to come after me must deny himself, take up his cross, and follow me" (Mark 8:34b) is the story of John's life. The Paschal Mystery through death to life strongly marks John as reformer, mystic-poet, and theologian-priest. Ordained a Carmelite priest in 1567 at age 25, John met Teresa of Avila and like her, vowed himself to the primitive Rule of the Carmelites. As partner with Teresa and in his own right, John engaged in the work of reform, and came to experience the price of reform: increasing opposition, misunderstanding, persecution, imprisonment. He came to know the cross acutely—to experience the dying of Jesus—as he sat month after month in his dark, damp, narrow cell with only his God. Yet, the paradox! In this dying of imprisonment John came to life, uttering poetry. In the darkness of the dungeon, John’s spirit came into the Light. There are many mystics, many poets; John is unique as mystic-poet, expressing in his prison-cross the ecstasy of mystical union with God in the Spiritual Canticle.

But as agony leads to ecstasy, so John had his Ascent to Mt. Carmel, as he named it in his prose masterpiece. As man-Christian-Carmelite, he experienced in himself this purifying ascent; as spiritual director, he sensed it in others; as psychologist-theologian, he described and analyzed it in his prose writings. His prose works are outstanding in underscoring the cost of discipleship, the path of union with God: rigorous discipline, abandonment, purification. Uniquely and strongly John underlines the gospel paradox: The cross leads to resurrection, agony to ecstasy, darkness to light, abandonment to possession, denial to self to union with God. If you want to save your life, you must lose it. John is truly “of the Cross.” He died at 49—a life short, but full.

X. Nativity of the Lord (Dec. 25)

God used amazing events to communicate that Jesus Christ was the promised Messiah who would be the Savior of the world. Give this one-page handout to anyone who has questions about the leading messages regarding Christ’s birth:

Message One:- God Promised Christ’s Arrival

Throughout History: The promise of the coming Savior appears like a thread running through the Old Testament, starting with a hint after the first recorded sin.

Message Two:- God Became a Man : The most astounding message of the Nativity is that God became man. John tells us God became flesh and lived with us (John 1:14)

Message Three:- Angels Testified to Christ’s Coming: The angel Gabriel appeared to Mary, not only to prepare her, a virgin, for bearing the Son of God, but to give her specific instructions concerning him.

Message Four:- Witnesses Proclaimed Christ the Messiah: Eight days after Jesus was born, Mary and Joseph took him to the temple. Simeon, who had been promised he wouldn’t die before seeing the Lord’s Christ, said, “My eyes have seen your salvation.

Message Five:- Christ Came for Our Salvation: Jesus came to fulfill thousands of years of prophecy. He would be the one who not only represented God, but was God (John 1:1). When Adam and Eve sinned...

XI. Saint Stephen (Dec 26)

Saint Stephen is recognized as a saint and the first martyr in Christian theology. He was condemned for committing blasphemy against the Jewish Temple, and was stoned to death circa the year 36. Saint Stephen is a recognized saint in many Christian theologies, and is considered to be the first Christian martyr. According to the fifth book of the Bible's New Testament, the Acts of the Apostles, Stephen was denounced for blasphemy after a dispute with members of a Jewish synagogue circa the year 36. According to Chapters 6 and 7 of the Book of Acts, he was condemned and stoned to death the scene of which was depicted in Dutch artist Rembrandt's "The Stoning of Saint Stephen." Today, Western Christians annually celebrate "St. Stephen's Day" on December 26.

XII. Feast of St. John, the Apostle and Evangelist (Dec. 27)

Today is the third day in the octave of Christmas. The Church celebrates the Feast of St. John, apostle and evangelist. Born in Bethsaida, he was called while mending his nets to follow Jesus. He became the beloved disciple of Jesus. He wrote the fourth Gospel, three Epistles and the Apocalypse. His passages on the pre-existence of the Word, who by His Incarnation became the light of the world and the life of our souls, are among the finest of the New Testament. He is the evangelist of the divinity of Christ and His fraternal love. With James, his brother, and Simon Peter, he was one of the witnesses of the Transfiguration. At the Last Supper, he leans on the Master's breast. At the foot of the cross, Jesus entrusts His Mother to his care. John's pure life kept him very close to Jesus and Mary in years to come. John was exiled to the island of Patmos under Emperor Domitian. XIII. Feast of Holy Innocents (Dec. 28)

Herod "the Great," king of Judea, was unpopular with his people because of his connections with the Romans and his religious indifference. Hence he was insecure and fearful of any threat to his throne. He was a master politician and a tyrant capable of extreme brutality. He killed his wife, his brother, and his sister's two husbands, to name only a few. Matthew 2:1-18 tells this story: Herod was "greatly troubled" when astrologers from the east came asking the whereabouts of “the newborn king of the Jews,” whose star they had seen. They were told that the Jewish Scriptures named Bethlehem as the place where the Messiah would be born. Herod cunningly told them to report back to him so that he could also “do him homage.” They found Jesus, offered him their gifts, and warned by an angel, avoided Herod on their way home. Jesus escaped to Egypt. Herod became furious and “ordered the massacre of all the boys in Bethlehem and its vicinity two years old and under.” The horror of the massacre and the devastation of the mothers and fathers led Matthew to quote Jeremiah: “A voice was heard in Ramah, sobbing and loud lamentation; Rachel weeping for her children...” (Matthew 2:18). Rachel was the wife of Jacob (Israel). She is pictured as weeping at the place where the Israelites were herded together by the conquering Assyrians for their march into captivity.

XIV. The Holy Family of Jesus, Mary, Joseph (Dec. 31)

Feast of the Holy Family, Roman Catholic religious festival falling on the first Sunday after Christmas. Although major feast days dedicated to each member of the Holy Family—Jesus, Mary, and Joseph—also exist, the Feast of the Holy Family commemorates their life together, and the celebration focuses on religious family life. Because of the flight of the Holy Family into Egypt, a feast for the Holy Family has been observed by the Copts from early times. In Western Christianity, however, a cult of veneration for the Holy Family as a group, rather than as individuals, did not arise until the 17th century and was not officially recognized until the feast day was formally instituted in 1921 under Pope Benedict XV. Originally celebrated on the Sunday after Epiphany (January 6), the Feast of the Holy Family was moved to the Sunday after Christmas in 1969, bringing it within the Christmas season.

The devotion to the Holy Family was born in Bethlehem, together with the Baby Jesus. The shepherds went to adore the Child and, at the same time, they gave honor to His family. Later, in a similar way, the three wise men came from the East to adore and give honor to the newborn King with gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh that would be safeguarded by His family.

We can go further to affirm that in a certain sense Christ, Himself, was the first devotee of His family. He showed His devotion to His mother and foster father by submitting Himself, with infinite humility, to the duty of filial obedience towards them. This is what St Bernard of Clairvaux said in this regard, ‘God, to whom angels submit themselves and who principalities and powers obey, was subject to Mary; and not only to Mary but Joseph also for Mary’s sake. God obeyed a human creature; this is humility without precedent. A human creature commands God; it is sublime beyond measure.’ (First Homily on the ‘Missus Est’).

6. Advent Begins on 03 December 2023: Advent, (from Latin adventus, "coming"), in the Christian church calendar, the period of preparation for the celebration of the birth of Jesus Christ at Christmas and also of preparation for the Second Coming of Christ. In Western churches, Advent begins on the Sunday nearest to November 30 (St. Andrew's Day) and is the beginning of the liturgical year. In many Eastern churches, the Nativity Fast is a similar period of penance and preparation that occurs during the 40 days before Christmas. The date when the season was first observed is uncertain. Bishop Perpetuus of Tours (461–490) established a fast before Christmas that began on November 11 (St. Martin's Day), and the Council of Tours (567) mentioned an Advent season.

The liturgical meaning of the Advent season referred to the dual "coming" of Jesus—then Roman Catholicism the traditional liturgical colour for Advent is violet; many Protestant denominations have adopted blue or purple. The third Sunday of Advent, known as Gaudete Sunday, is commonly marked by the use of rose-colored vestments and candles.
